

New Explosion-Safe LED Stacklight Towers from Patlite Certified for Use in Gaseous and Dusty Environments

Patlite introduces the explosion-safe AR-070 and AR-078 LED Stacklight Towers, certified for Zone 2 and Zone 22 application environments. Each model is rated as IP65 without alarm/flashing and IP54 with alarms/flashing and features a robust glass-fiber-reinforced polyester base, a 1.5 meter cable and a sealed cable exit. As a result, they are an ideal choice for providing user-adjustable audible alarms up to 85dB (AR-070) and 90dB (AR-078), respectively, with a highly-visible visual status indication in continuous, flashing or alarm modes in gaseous and dusty environments. Towers can be wall or direct mounted and units can be stacked five-high in red, amber, green, blue and clear to suit a variety of application needs.

The attractive AR-070 and AR-078 LED Stacklight Towers provide reliable operation and versatility that plant operators can count on in their explosion-safe environments; and what's more, they feature our exclusive Hybrid Prism-cut Lens that enhances visibility from any direction and distance which enhances light diffusion to create bright and distinctive illumination in an energy-efficient manner.

AR-070 models are 40mm in diameter and have an optional 1/2" NPT, and AR-078 models are 60mm in diameter and have an optional 3/4" NPT. Both models simplify installation with wiring that is color-coordinated to correspond with the stacklight color. Both models also feature interchangeable LED modules that eliminate the need for any rewiring, even after installation.
